Graduate Research Opportunity Funds (GRO)

The School of Humanities and Sciences awards Graduate Research Opportunity (GRO) funding of up to $5,000 to support doctoral student dissertation research. This funding does not replace other funding that the student may receive to support their dissertation research.

Thanks to a gift from a generous donor, GRO funds are also available to students pursuing dissertation research related to modern British history and culture (GRO-MBHC).

ELIGIBILITY
Doctoral students (PhD or DMA) in the humanities, arts, and social sciences who:

- Have been admitted to candidacy
- Have an approved dissertation proposal
- Are making satisfactory academic progress
- Will be enrolled in the quarter in which GRO or GRO-MBHC funds will be disbursed

Questions about eligibility should be directed to hsgusteam@lists.stanford.edu.

DEADLINES
There are two GRO and GRO-MBHC application cycles this year:

*Applications for summer research funding should be submitted in the Spring submission cycle.

FUNDING
Funding is competitive and not all proposals will be funded. The maximum GRO or GRO-MBHC award is $5,000. Applicants are encouraged to apply for other sources of funding, but may not accept multiple sources of funding to cover the same research expenses.

GRO and GRO-MBHC Application Instructions
To apply for GRO or GRO-MBHC funds, complete the student profile and online application. To access the online application here.

Project Title and Summary
Briefly describe your research for a general audience, as members of the selection committee may not have subject-specific knowledge in your field. Your summary should:

- Provide an overview of your research problem or question
- Describe the research methods you are using
- Summarize how you plan to use the requested funds
- Indicate the status of your project (at what stage you are in your dissertation research?)
- Not exceed 2 pages

September 28, 2021
Budget
Provide a line-item budget identifying:
- Expenses for which you are requesting funding
- Other funding for this project for which you have applied (e.g., VPGE DDRO, NSF, etc.)
- Other research funding that you have already obtained for this project

Eligible Expenses
- Travel related to research data collection (e.g., transportation, accommodation, meals)
- Supplies, excluding computers or computer hardware
- Services (e.g., data entry or transcription)
- Payment to human subjects for participating in research (IRB approval required)
- Hiring a Stanford graduate or undergraduate student to assist with your research
  - Before applying for GRO or GRO-MBHC funds, you must confirm with your home department/program that they agree to hire this student.
  - For more detailed information on hiring, paying, and supervising graduate or undergraduate students, please refer to university policies at https://adminguide.stanford.edu/chapter-10/subchapter-1/policy-10-1-1 or https://adminguide.stanford.edu/chapter-10/subchapter-2/policy-10-2-2.

Ineligible Expenses
- Stanford cost of attendance (e.g., tuition, health insurance, etc.)
- Travel related to job interviews or conferences
- Non-travel living expenses
- Computer purchases

For an additional list of eligible and ineligible expenses, see GRO FAQ

Institutional Review Board (IRB)
If applicable, indicate whether you have received IRB approval for your project and the IRB approval number.

Faculty Confirmation
Your advisor will be asked to confirm that:
- You have been admitted to candidacy
- You are making satisfactory academic progress
- Your dissertation research project has been approved
- Your research project for this funding request is reasonable and can be completed as proposed
